THE SENIOR CLASS OF JAMES WALKER MEMORIAL HOSPITAL SCHOOL OF NURSING Presents

THE EPITOME OF 1963

with its theme
AS THE BEAUTY OF NATURE — LIFE

Class Motto: Far away there in the sunshine are my highest aspirations. I may not reach them, but I can look up and see their beauty, believe in them, and try to follow where they lead.

Louisa May Alcott

THE FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE

PLEDGE

I solemnly pledge myself before God and in the presence of this assembly to pass my life in purity and to practice my profession faithfully. I will abstain from whatever is deleterious and mischievous and will not take or knowingly administer any harmful drug. I will do all in my power to maintain and elevate the standards of my profession and will hold in confidence all personal matters committed to my keeping and all family affairs coming into my knowledge in the practice of my calling. With loyalty will I endeavor to aid the physician in his work, and devote myself to the welfare of those committed to my care.

DEDICATION

To Our Parents

To the ones who have loved and cherished every childish deed we have ever accomplished; who have encouraged us when we were ready to turn back; who have inspired us to build our lives morally, physically, and spiritually; and who seem to love us in spite of our ways; we, the Senior Class, proudly dedicate this, The EPITOME OF 1963, with great love and appreciation in our hearts, to our Parents.

PROPHECY

American Nurses' Association
Special Events Section of American Journal of Nursing
September 1983 Edition

When my editor handed me the assignment for this month, I discovered that it was to be a report on a typical class of professional nurses who had graduated twenty years ago. How many of these graduates were still in nursing today? I thought why not do it on my graduating class of James Walker Memorial Hospital, Wilmington, North Carolina. We had graduated in 1963, exactly twenty years ago.

So after persuading my editor to allow me time off to follow up this month's edition, I boarded a National Airlines plane and began my journey in search of nineteen nurses.

After arriving in Wilmington, I proceeded to the New Hanover County Medical Center. I was able to follow up on a good lead by finding some of my former classmates employed there.

To begin with, I collided in the main corridor of the fourth floor female medical service unit with Mrs. Barbara Hardee, the former Barbara Satterwhite. It was to my advantage that we recognized each other before she outleted her hostility my way, what with all the floor's broken thermometers scattered here and there. But instead we hugged each other and exchanged jumbled and confused exclamations. Over a cup of coffee in the employee's main dining area, Bobbie told me about the new brick Early American home she and Ronnie have just finished and their two children, a boy and girl both in high school now.

After a few minutes I was surprised by another member of our class. Mrs. Judy Hudgens, present Assistant Director of Nursing Service here. I must say Judy still possesses the good leadership qualities she had while we were in school. She also has children, three to be exact, with cornflower blue eyes and flaxen hair.

A tap on the shoulder brought me whirling around to come face to face with Eula Mae King. Eula Mae works in the Intensive Care Unit. On her vacation this coming summer, she has made arrangements to tour Iran. I know that someday she would fulfill her dream. She hasn't changed a bit and she still has her one and only Bolton accept.

After I explained my purpose in coming, Judy, Eula May, and Bobbie told me about the doings of some more of our classmates.

Linda Stoudenmire Vernon is living in Wilmington doing private duty nursing here in the county at various hospitals and homes.

Jean Keith and Jimmy are living at Ward's Corner now. They have a farm and Jean stays home and takes care of their six children. She no longer finds time to work as a nurse.

Ruth Strickland is working in Public Health in her hometown of New Bern. She and her twin sister share an apartment and they are both well known in that area for their volunteer church work.

Not too far away over in Morehead City, Mildred Lockhart is a head nurse at the hospital there. I hear that Gene Jr. finally got his little sister and brother to boot.

Vivian Blanchard and Eric are living in Clinton, where Vivian does general duty in the pediatric ward of Clinton's hospital.

From Wilmington, I travelled to Raleigh to visit Margaret Register, nursing instructor at Dorothea Dix State Hospital. She was offered the position two years ago to fulfill the vacancy left by the late Miss Rachel Westmoreland. After spending the afternoon with Margaret discussing the latest therapeutic techniques in psychiatric nursing, I took a bus over to Chapel Hill to see Alice Groves. I met her as she was getting off duty at Chapel Hill Memorial Hospital. Later at Alice's apartment, which is right off the campus of U. N. C., she still tried to convince me that single life is the best life. She steadily dates college professors, doctors, interns, and other interesting men.

We drove over to Durham to have supper with Sybil Grissett and her husband, who is a doctor and professor at Duke University. Sybil filled me in on how she came to Duke Medical Center to work a couple of years after graduation and met her husband here, where upon they married and have lived ever since.

Alice and Sybil tell me that Glee Hursey is still in Florida. She is in charge of first aid at one of Miami's reputed hotels.

From Durham I caught the northbound train to Alexandria, Virginia to drop in on Betty Jo and Don Marshall. A taxi carried me fifteen miles out into the beautiful rolling hills of the Virginia countryside, past colonial styled houses and contemporary farms up to a two story split level house with horse stables and surrounding fields. Betty Jo came out of the house to meet me. She took me in and introduced me to their four charming children. She explained that Don would not be home until late evening, as he has to commute from Washington, where he works for the Army Corps of Engineers. Betty Jo has not worked for the past ten years and she said she was just content to stay home and keep house and raise her children.

From Virginia my next stop was a little town in the mountains of Kentucky where I found Phyllis and Cecil Bard. Phyllis works part-time as a visiting nurse into the mountains. She says the only drawback is that the only way to get to some of the people who live there is by horse back. So Cecil bought her a mule which she uses to carry her bag and midwifery equipment.

At Harrisburg, Pennsylvania Pam Mavros Hale and her Harry are happily contented raising their five children. Pam no longer works, but helps Harry take care of his radio and television retail and repair business. We all had a tremendous dinner with Pam in charge of the cooking, which she has become a wizard at.

Before returning to New York, I took a cross-country jet to California. In Los Angeles I found Carolyn Batten and her husband Chico. Carolyn works at the Los Angeles County Hospital, and she and Chico love living here where they can attend all the cultural and entertainment activities.

From L. A. I drove north to a small town south of San Francisco to visit Sue and Dave Wylie. In the twenty years since we have graduated, I have visited them several times, so this was a resting place on my journey before I returned home. Sue and Dave have a beautiful Japanese styled house on the cliffs overlooking the Pacific. Dave works in San Francisco, and Sue runs the household. Their children are exact replicas of both of them. So we spent several days together relaxing in the sun reminiscing over school days and how the fates of our classmates had turned out.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

State of North Carolina
County of New Hanover
City of Wilmington
James Walker Memorial Hospital
School of Nursing

We, the Senior Class of James Walker Memorial Hospital School of Nursing of 1963, being of supposedly sound minds and bodies, wish to propose this last will and testament, with the hope that it expresses our feelings, gratitude, and appreciation for the three years we have spent here.

Article I

To our families, we leave our love. They were the strong stems which kept us aloft and flowering through both storm and sunshine. We leave with the hope that by reaching our goal, we have in some way given them a little more happiness.

Article II

To our faculty, we leave with deep gratitude for the help, support, and guidance they have given us in both good times and bad.

Article III

To our doctors, we wish to express our deep appreciation for their patience and understanding.

Article IV

To our directors, supervisors, head nurses, and all other personnel with whom we have worked, we leave, saying a heart-felt "Thank You!"

Article V

To Mrs. Garner, Mrs. Murray, and Mrs. Holden, we leave with a special place for each one of you in our memories.

Article VI

To the Junior Class, we leave all of our 3-11 shifts, not that they will work half as many as we did.

Article VII

I, Phyllis Bard, leave my ability to catch a husband in Raleigh to Billie Burney in hopes that she has the same kind of luck.

I, Vivian Blanchard, leave my corns to Dr. Boyes—Holy Toledo!!

I, Sybil Grisset, leave my love for Raleigh and State College to all the Juniors going to "The Hill."

I, Alice Groves, leave my ability to get up in the morning after being called for the tenth time to anyone who loves to sleep as much as I—which I doubt!

I, Carol Hewett, leave the same way I came—in a state of confusion!!

I, Glee Hursey, leave my ability to write incidents reports to Betty Bradshaw, and hope that she will have no need to perfect this ability.

I, Jean Keith, leave AT LAST, to be with Jimmy always!!

I, Eula Mae King, leave my inability to be embarrassed by Dr. Dorman's remarks to anyone who can think of an answer as fast as I can.

I, Mildred Lockhart, leave my trips to Morehead City to Mary Richardson.

I, Margaret Register, leave my ability to burn the midnite oil to anyone who has the will-power to use it.

I, Barbara Satterwhite leave my ability to blush at a moment's notice to Martha Kay Brown.

I, Betty Jo Smith, leave my endless nights of sitting in to my sister, Diane, in hopes that she will settle down.

I, Linda Stoudenmire, leave my nightly letter-writing to anyone who can afford the stationery.

I, Ruth Strickland, leave my ability to play the piano to Linda Sullivan, not that Linda really needs it.

I, Anita Wood, leave my ability to stay on restrictions to Betty Bullard.

I, Judy Hudgens leave my ability to get a MRS degree to Dawnna Bland.

I, Pam Mavros, leave my record collection to Brenda Broughten, in the hope that she can keep up with them better than I could.

I, Carolyn Colon, leave my long hair to Jan Elekes.

I, Sue Wylie, leave my outstanding campus record to anyone who can take it—I COULDN'T!!

WE SURELY WILL MISS —

Carolyn's—"My Cow".

Betty Jo's "naive" questions.

Sue and her scatterbrained ways.

Alice's "devil may care" attitude.

Phyllis' giggle.

Judy's unique way of twisting.

Eula Mae's wig and heavy make-up.

Bobbie's hula dance.

Linda's daily question—"Do I have any mail?"

Vivian's empty closet—according to her.

Pam, bringing goodies from her father's bakery.

Sybil's long hair which never stays in place for long.

Jean having to go home to cook supper for her husband.

Carol Ann's cute way of talking.

Anita, shaking her wet stockings in the hall.

Glee's being snowed every month or so.

Mildred's constant chit-chat and talk about her Genes.

Margaret looking out the window to see what her blind date looks like.

Ruth and her twin always trying to confuse us—and succeeding!

Finally I had to leave for home, so we bid goodbye and I returned to New York to complete my assignment by going to visit Carol Hewett who also works here in the city at St. Lukes. I see Carol and her husband often. We were living in New York together when Carol met him.

I wonder if twenty years ago any of us could have predicted where we would be this time now and what we would be doing. I suppose that is something only each of us knows, but it has been a rewarding experience for me to find everyone again and to know that we have all been treated kindly by fate.

Well I must return to the old grind again and get out the first copy of this month's edition before the deadline has me or I may be out of a job.
